FRANKLIN TOMORROW SETS THE PRINCESS BALL JUNE 18

Franklin Tomorrow will host “The Princess Ball” on Friday, June 18, 2010, for all fathers and daughters as a fundraiser for the organization’s Youth Initiative.

Designed for girls 3-13 and their fathers, grandfathers or a special father figure in their lives, the event will be held in Jamison Hall at The Factory at Franklin, starting at 6 p.m. and continuing until 8:30 p.m.

Attendees will get the chance to be presented alongside their father just in time for Father’s Day on June 20. Also during the event, the crowd will dance to a DJ, enjoy food from restaurants like NatiCakes, McDougal’s, Puckett’s and Stove Works, and have a keepsake photo made while all dressed up for their special night by VIP Magazine. There will also be door-prize giveaways for all attendees.

Divas and Dudes will be on hand to add a little sparkle to every girl’s night. Those wishing to be presented should arrive by 6:30 p.m. Attire for the evening is meant to make every girl feel like a princess, so black tie optional — suits or sport coats for the men and dresses or skirts for the young ladies — will be the norm.

“Every girl is her Daddy’s little princess, no matter how old she is, but we want the first Princess Ball to be a special memory for all who attend,” said Natalie Dodd, executive director for Franklin Tomorrow.

Co-chairs for the event are Lisa Beathard, Jessica Sheridan and Heather Crawford.

Tickets are available online for $50 for fathers and all their daughters, no matter how many, at www.franklintomorrow.org/the-princess-ball. For more information, call 794-0998.

The Youth Initiative being created by Franklin Tomorrow will work with middle school and younger children in an effort to instill community pride and create a volunteer spirit in each.

Franklin Tomorrow is a non-profit community organization that communicates a shared and evolving Vision for the future of Franklin and focuses that Vision through education, advocacy, evaluation, implementation, and recognition of the Vision's specific goals and strategies.
